

The Launch of Hogan Lovells

1 May 2010

In December 2009, the partners of Hogan & Hartson and Lovells voted to combine our two firms. We are pleased to announce that the combination has come into effect today.

We are very excited about the expanded global capabilities that Hogan Lovells will offer our clients. Hogan Lovells may be new, but the experience, resources, and approach to practice we draw upon have been developed and cultivated over a long period.

Hogan Lovells will afford clients a multi-national capability with an unmatched quality, range, and depth of legal services. We are confident that with our breadth of practice, deep industry knowledge, and one-team approach worldwide, Hogan Lovells will provide an excellent, responsive, and innovative service needed to navigate today's complex legal landscape.

We have attached a short briefing document which sets out what the combination means for our clients; no action is required on your part. Your existing relationship with us does not change.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us or your primary partner contact.

We greatly appreciate the client relationship we have with you, and we look forward to working with you as Hogan Lovells.

Sincerely,

Warren Gorrell and David Harris
Co-Chief Executive Officers
